(? - 1040) HAROLD I

nicknamed HAREFOOT

King of England

Became joint ruler with Hardecanute (1035), but the prolonged absence of Hardecanute in Denmark led the people to give over his share of the kingdom to Harold who became sole King.

(C1019-1042) HARDCANUTE (HARDACNUT or HARTHACNUT)

King of England and Denmark; the son and successor of Canute. At the death of his father (1035) he was under-
king of Denmark. The English WITAN decided that HAROLD, half brother of HARDECANUTE, should have the south and that Hardecanute should have only WESSEX. Hardecanute was slow in taking his kingdom, it all went to Harold in 1037

on the latter's death (in 1040), it all passed to HARDECANUTE.
